10 MORE Experts Criticising the Coronavirus Panic

Following on from our previous list, here are ten more expert voices, drowned out or disregarded by the mainstream narrative, offering their take on the coronavirus outbreak.

Dr. Sunetra Gupta et al. are an Oxford-based research team constructing an epidemiological model for the coronavirus outbreak, their paper has yet to be peer-reviewed, but the abstract is available online.

Dr Gupta is a Professor of Theoretical Epidemiology at the University of Oxford with an interest in infectious disease agents that are responsible for malaria, HIV, influenza and bacterial meningitis. She is a recipient of the Sahitya Akademi Award, the Scientific Medal by the Zoological Society of London and the Royal Society Rosalind Franklin Award for her scientific research.

What they say:

Importantly, the results we present here suggest the ongoing epidemics in the UK and Italy started at least a month before the first reported death and have already led to the accumulation of significant levels of herd immunity in both countries. There is an inverse relationship between the proportion currently immune and the fraction of the population vulnerable to severe disease.

– Fundamental principles of epidemic spread highlight the immediate need for large-scale serological surveys to assess the stage of the SARS-CoV-2 epidemic, 24th March 2020

The research presents a very different view of the epidemic to the modelling at Imperial College London [...] “I’m surprised that there has been such unqualified acceptance of the Imperial model”, Dr Gupta said.

The Oxford results would mean the country had already acquired substantial herd immunity through the unrecognised spread of covid19 over more than two months.

Although some experts have shed doubt on the strength and length of the human immune response to the virus, Prof Gupta said the emerging evidence made her confident that humanity would build up herd immunity against Covid19

Dr Karin Mölling is a German virologist whose research focused on retroviruses, particularly human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). She was a full professor and director of the Institute of Medical Virology at the University of Zurich from 1993 until her retirement in 2008 and received multiple honours and awards for her work.

What she says:

You are now told every morning how many SARS-Corona 2 deaths there are. But they don't tell you how many people already are infected with influenza this winter and how many deaths it has caused.

This winter, the flu is not severe, but around 80,000 are infected. You don't get these numbers at all. Something similar occurred two years ago. This is not put into the right context.

Every week a person dies in Berlin from multi-resistant germs. That adds up to 35,000 a year in Germany. This is not mentioned at all. I believe that we have had situations like this several times and that the measures are now being taken too far.

I am of the opinion that maybe one should not do so much against young people having parties together and infecting each other. We have to build immunity somehow. How can that be possible without contacts? The younger ones handle the infection much better. But we have to protect the elderly, and protect them in a way that can be scrutinized; is it reasonable what we are doing now, to stretch out the epidemic in a way that almost paralyzes the entire world economy?

The Robert Koch Institute provides the figures. Then you sit there as a listener or spectator: 20 dead again, how terrible! Do you know when I would start to panic? If there are 20,000. Then we get close to what went on completely quietly two years ago.

The 2018 influenza epidemic, with 25,000 deaths, never disconcerted the press. The clinics had to deal with an additional 60,000 patients, which was no problem in the clinics either!

That is the main fear: the disease is presented as a terrible disease. The disease per se is like the flu in a normal winter. It is even weaker in the first week.

Dr Anders Tegnell is a Swedish physician and civil servant who has been State Epidemiologist of the Public Health Agency of Sweden since 2013. Dr Tegnell graduated from medical school in 1985, specialising in infectious disease. He later obtained a PhD in Medical Science from Linköping University in 2003 and an MSc in 2004.

What he says:

“All measures that we take must be feasible over a longer period of time.” Otherwise, the population will lose acceptance of the entire corona strategy.

Older people or people with previous health problems should be isolated as much as possible. So no visits to children or grandchildren, no journeys by public transport, if possible no shopping. That is the one rule. The other is: Anyone with symptoms should stay at home immediately, even with the slightest cough.

“If you follow these two rules, you don’t need any further measures, the effect of which is only very marginal anyway,”

Dr Pablo Goldschmidt is an Argentine-French virologist specializing in tropical diseases, and Professor of Molecular Pharmacology at the Université Pierre et Marie Curie in Paris. He is a graduate of the Faculty of Pharmacy and Biochemistry of the University of Buenos Aires and Faculty of Medicine of the Hospital Center of Pitié-Salpêtrière, Paris.

He currently resides in France, where he has worked for almost 40 years as a researcher in clinical laboratories developing diagnostic technology.

What he says:

The ill-founded opinions expressed by international experts, replicated by the media and social networks repeat the unnecessary panic that we have previously experienced. The coronavirus identified in China in 2019 caused nothing less than a strong cold or flu, with no difference so far with cold or flu as we know , ”

Respiratory viral conditions are numerous and are caused by several viral families and species, among which the respiratory syncytial virus (especially in infants), influenza (influenza), human metapneumoviruses, adenoviruses, rhinoviruses, and various coronaviruses, already described years ago. It is striking that earlier this year global health alerts have been triggered as a result of infections by a coronavirus detected in China, COVID-19, knowing that each year there are 3 million newborns who die in the world of pneumonia and 50,000 adults in the United States for the same cause, without alarms being issued.

Our planet is the victim of a new sociological phenomenon, scientific-media harassment , triggered by experts only on the basis of laboratory molecular diagnostic analysis results.

Communiqués issued from China and Geneva were replicated, without being confronted from a critical point of view and, above all, without stressing that coronaviruses have always infected humans and always caused diarrhoea and what people call a banal cold or common cold. Absurd forecasts were extrapolated, as in 2009 with the H1N1 influenza virus.

There is no evidence to show that the 2019 coronavirus is more lethal than respiratory adenoviruses, influenza viruses, coronaviruses from previous years, or rhinoviruses responsible for the common cold.

– Interview on Clarin.com, 9th March 2020

Dr Eran Bendavid and Dr Jay Bhattacharya are professors of medicine and public health at Stanford University.

What they say:

[P]rojections of the death toll could plausibly be orders of magnitude too high [...] The true fatality rate is the portion of those infected who die, not the deaths from identified positive cases.

The latter rate is misleading because of selection bias in testing. The degree of bias is uncertain because available data are limited. But it could make the difference between an epidemic that kills 20,000 and one that kills two million.

A universal quarantine may not be worth the costs it imposes on the economy, community and individual mental and physical health. We should undertake immediate steps to evaluate the empirical basis of the current lockdowns.

Dr Tom Jefferson is a British epidemiologist, based in Rome. He works for the Cochrane Collaboration, where he is an author and editor of the Cochrane Collaboration's acute respiratory infections group, as well as part of four other Cochrane groups. He is also an advisor to the Italian National Agency for Regional Health Services.

What he says:

So I cannot answer my nagging doubts, there does not seem to be anything special about this particular epidemic of influenza-like illness.

There are, however, two consequences of this situation that bother me.

The first is the lack of institutional credibility as perceived by my friends. They range from firefighters, policemen, and even a GP — not the kind of people you would want to alienate in an emergency. A restaurant owner told me he would never report himself to the health authority as that would mean at least two weeks of closure and his business would go to the wall.

The second is that once the limelight has moved on, will there be a serious and concentrated international effort to understand the causes and origins of influenza-like illnesses and the life cycle of its agents?

Past form tells me not, and we will go back to pushing influenza as a universal plague under the roof of the hot house of commercial interest. Note the difference: Influenza (caused by influenza A and B viruses, for which we have licensed vaccines and drugs), not influenza-like illnesses against which we should wash our hands all the year round, not just now.

Meanwhile, I still cannot answer Mario's question: what's different this time?

– “Covid 19—many questions, no clear answers”, British Medical Journal, 2nd March 2020

Dr Michael Levitt is Professor of biochemistry at Stanford University. He is a Fellow of the Royal Society (FRS), a member of the National Academy of Sciences and received the 2013 Nobel Prize in Chemistry for the development of multiscale models for complex chemical systems.

In February this year, he correctly modelled that the China outbreak was coming to an end, predicting around 80,000 cases and 3250 deaths.

What he says:

I don't believe the numbers in Israel, not because they're made up, but because the definition of a case in Israel keeps changing and it's hard to evaluate the numbers that way..

There is a lot of unjustified panic in Israel. I don't believe the numbers here, everything is politics, not math. I will be surprised if number of deaths in Israel surpasses ten, and even five now with the restrictions.

To put things in proportion, the number of deaths of coronavirus in Italy is 10% of the number of deaths of influenza in the country between 2016-2017.

Even in China it's hard to look at the number of patients because the definition of "patient" varies, so I look at number of deaths. In Israel there are none, so that's why it's not even on the world map for the disease."

– “Nobel laureate: surprised if Israel has more than 10 coronavirus deaths”, Jerusalem Post, 20th March 2020

[Levitt] analyzed data from 78 countries that reported more than 50 new cases of COVID-19 every day and sees “signs of recovery” in many of them. He’s not focusing on the total number of cases in a country, but on the number of new cases identified every day — and, especially, on the change in that number from one day to the next.

“Numbers are still noisy, but there are clear signs of slowed growth.”

“What we need is to control the panic,” he said. In the grand scheme, “we’re going to be fine.”

German Network for Evidence-Based Medicine is an association of German scientists, researchers and medical professionals.

The network was founded in 2000 to disseminate and further develop concepts and methods of evidence-based and patient-oriented medicine in practice, teaching and research, and today has around 1000 members.

What they say:

In the majority of cases, COVID-19 takes the form of a mild cold or is even symptom-free. Therefore, it is highly unlikely that all cases of infection are recorded, in contrast with deaths which are almost completely recorded. This leads to an overestimation of the CFR.

According to a study of 565 Japanese people evacuated from Wuhan, all of whom were tested (regardless of symptoms), only 9.2% of infected people were detected with currently used symptom-oriented COVID-19 monitoring [5]. This would mean that the number of infected people is likely to be about 10 times greater than the number of registered cases. The CFR would then only be about one tenth of that currently measured. Others assume an even higher number of unreported cases, which would further reduce the CFR.

The widespread availability of SARS-CoV-2 tests is limited. In the USA, for example, an adequate, state-funded testing facility for all suspected cases has only been available since 11.3.2020 [6]. In Germany as well, there were occasional bottlenecks which contribute to an overestimation of the CFR.

As the disease spreads, it becomes increasingly difficult to identify a suspected source of infection. As a result, common colds in people who unknowingly had contact with a COVID-19 patient are not necessarily associated with COVID-19 and those affected do not go to the doctor at all.

An overestimation of the CFR also occurs when a deceased person is found to have been infected with SARS-CoV-2, but this was not the cause of death.

[T]he CFR of 0.2% currently measured for Germany is below the Robert Koch-Institute's (RKI) calculated influenza CFRs of 0.5% in 2017/18 and 0.4% in 2018/19, but above the widely accepted figure of 0.1% for which there is no reliable evidence.

Beyond the (rather questionable) conclusions drawn from the historical example, there is little evidence that NPIs for COVID-19 actually lead to a reduction in overall mortality. A Cochrane Review from 2011 found no robust evidence for the effectiveness of border control screenings or social distancing.

A systematic review from 2015 found moderate evidence that school closures delay the spread of an influenza epidemic, but at high cost. Isolation at home slows down the spread of influenza but leads to increased infection of family members. It is questionable whether these findings can be transferred from influenza to COVID-19.

It is completely unclear how long the NPIs must be maintained and what effects could be achieved depending on their duration and intensity. The number of deaths might only be postponed to a later point in time, without any change in the total number.

Many questions remain unanswered. On the one hand, the media confronts us daily with alarming reports of an exponentially increasing number of ill and dead people worldwide. On the other hand, the media coverage in no way considers our required criteria for evidence-based risk communication.

The media is currently communicating raw data, for example, there have been “X” infected persons and “Y” deaths to date. However, this presentation fails to distinguish between diagnoses and infections.

– “Covid19: Where is the evidence?”, statement on their website, March 20th 2020

of Staff at York Central Hospital.

What he says:

[F]ar more cases are out there than are being reported. This is because many cases have no symptoms and testing capacity has been limited. There have been about 100,000 cases reported to date, but, if we extrapolate from the number of reported deaths and a presumed case-fatality rate of 0.5 per cent, the real number is probably closer to two million – the vast majority mild or asymptomatic.

Likewise, the actual rate of new cases is probably at least 10,000 a day. If these numbers sound large, though, remember that the world is a very big place. From a global perspective, these numbers are very small.

Second, the Hubei outbreak – by far the largest, and a kind of worst-case scenario – appears to be winding down. How bad was it? Well, the number of deaths was comparable to an average influenza season. That's not nothing, but it's not catastrophic, either, and it isn't likely to overwhelm a competent health-care system. Not even close.

I am not preaching complacency. This disease is not going away any time soon; we should expect more cases and more local outbreaks. And COVID-19 still has the potential to become a major global health problem, with an overall burden comparable to that of influenza. We need to be vigilant in our surveillance.

[...]

But we also need to be sensible. Quarantine belongs back in the Middle Ages. Save your masks for robbing banks. Stay calm and carry on. Let's not make our attempted cures worse than the disease.

MORE THAN 90% OF THE DEAD WOULD STILL BE ALIVE IF THE “PANDEMIC OF IGNORANCE” OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR TAKING CARE OF THOSE ILL, COULD BE CONQUERED BY “HERD IMMUNIZATION”... VERY SLOW METHOD IN THE WORLD TODAY.

ONE OF THE SOLUTIONS IS HERE WITH 80 YEARS RESEARCH AND TRIAL SUPPORTING IT:

But is it for the Politicians and Mass Media “experts” to start a world wide panic and economical misery and deaths whose “solution” will be worse than the disease without considering the opinion of epidemiological experts.. Do some research and look for Dissenting Opinions Regarding Mass Quarantine...these 10 are just a sample.

I agree with you wholeheartedly, Manuel. Those controlling the policy MUST consult experts in the relevant scientific field in order to consider the medical impact and implications of something like Covid19. Those pulling the strings appear not to have done this.

The point I was making in my earlier post was in response to critics of the epidemiological experts asking how those experts explain (supposedly) overrun ICUs if they are confident that the virus doesn't present a major threat to society. My answer is that it isn't the job of the epidemiological experts to explain why people take themselves en masse to A&E (out of panic or hysteria?) and why ICUs are overstretched [ if they are indeed overstretched, it is most likely due to funding and economic and management issues, and pressures caused by the footfall of people panicking ].

You don't need to be an expert to see the causes for the concentration in Northern Italy and NYC. a) Florence has about 300,000 legal Chinese immigrants taking over its manufacturing, in addition to countless illegal Chinese, who make regular and continuous trips back & forth to Wuhan. Once the outbreak in China became known, and China began complaining a few weeks later that calling it a Chinese- or Wuhan-virus was "racist," the mayor of Florence encouraged the Italian residents of Florence to "hug a Chinese" to show support. Again, there was a constant traffic between Florence & Wuhan at that time. And Florence apparently has the second oldest population in Europe, if not in the world.

b) In January, President Trump banned travel from China. In NYC, the mayor and numerous anti-Trump politicians attacked him for that action, and fought him in the courts. They encouraged New Yorkers to attend the big Chinese New Year celebrations in February in lower Manhattan, telling them there was nothing to worry about, that the coronavirus wasn't contagious. And later, when Trump banned travel from Iran, a city official or judge overruled him on that. And it is known that a woman flying in from Iran was infected with the virus.

There are other factors as well, but political correctness in the case of Italy and political hatred in the case of New York gave both locations a major impetus in being infected.

Hi Sam, yes, what you say about the chinese community in Florence being one of the biggest in Europe is correct, nevertheless I would like to point out that there's no evidence of a single chinese man/woman living in Italy who passed away because of covid19, the infection spread in Lombardia and not in Tuscany where the chinese are. On the other hand just to add some information you may want to know that all deaths in northern Italy are now rubricated as "person died because of covid 19" instead of "person died with covid 19". All corpses normally are immediately carried away without being examined by the coroner, you may have seen the trucks of the army here in northern Italy carrying away coffins, well those corpses went straight to the crematorium.

There has NOT and there is NOT ANY real “Covid-19”!

What it IS, is that “THEY” invented a MISERABLE “corona-virus TEST” which as it has been very recently been DOCUMENTED and written in the official U.S. Medical Library Records [citation requested, thank you -ed], is NOT and CANNOT DETECT ANY actual “Covid-19”... and instead it ONLY detects “corona-viruses” existence IN GENERAL in the human body...

The so called “test” (and we are talking about the so called “credible” one which is working on the molecular level), in addition to the above, also, CANNOT DETECT the amount of the “corona-viruses” in the human body... which is crucial in order for a patient to be determined as an actual patient of a FLU...

Corona-viruses on the other hand, has been a thing which we humans have long ago been co-existing for millennia and what can make someone actually sick of them, is the amount of the “corona-viruses”, as well as the strength condition of their immune system!

THE WHOLE THING IS (one more yet a) SIGNIFICANT GLOBAL SCAM!!! just like that of the so called “climate change” and/or “global warming”...

The difference is that now, things are developing much faster regarding the PLANS of the GLOBAL CULT which has been RULING this world towards the IMPLEMENTATION and ENFORCEMENT of the “GLOBAL GOVERNANCE / DICTATORSHIP” right after the DESTRUCTION of the existing so far Global Economy... and THIS one will prove (INCLUDING the soon coming MANDATORY (Absolutely LETHAL) “VACCINATIONS” will be changing the world as we all know it so far...

The Economic Crisis of the 2008, compared to THIS one, will look like a tea party...

The Rockefeller Foundation has been officially foreseeing(...) and Describing this current situation, to its very last detail(...) in their records of the year 2010... Ten years ago!

All the here above mentioned information can be looked up an found in their respective web-sites by ANYONE... and last but not least, the whole current thing, apart from its connection to the “global gov” is also well connected to the massive roll-out of the “5G” as well...

It appears NYC's "patients" may be a partial hoax. Citizen journalists have investigated & found — well, best you see for yourself. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5pIMD1enwd4>

Italy: poor air quality; hospitals overwhelmed w pneumonia patients BEFORE advent of corona; and withdrawal of Eastern European caregivers from nursing homes, eventually shunting these elderly upon hospitals too.

here are the stats for overall seasonal death rates across Europe, they are the same if not less than any other year, I believe whats happening now is that every single death is being attributed to Covid19.

Death "with" Covid19 is not the same as death "from" Covid19

And the ONS small print for the UK stats clearly states that these are the dates the deaths were REPORTED, which can be more than a week later than the actual death, especially in the south-east of England. Worth bearing in mind.

So the only thing i miss in all these critiques, most of which i certainly agree with, in terms of the numbers being not that impressive and so on, is the fact that the hospitals and morgues deal with. How come the hospitals and morgues and funeral homes are not able to deal with these numbers, if they are so much lower than “business as usual” flu season and all other forms of disease and causes of death? And why is no one that offers critique on the numbers, like these experts do, not answering this question? And I´ve seen some people here in the comments laughing those questions away as well.

This article for example, but ofcourse this kind of info comes through mainstream and social media.

So i dont know if you count it as proof.

But yea, there are many videos on youtube of doctors saying they cant cope with the influx of people and we have to stay home

In Italy I've seen mention of the near capacity of the hospital ICU's before covid19 arrived. Another interesting observation is that there is mandatory cremation of the dead with the virus detected, which has overwhelmed the crematoriums.

Thank you for commenting on this, BigB. I was going to do it myself until I saw your excellent and informative comment. It's amazing how many self-described anti-imperialists are drinking the koolaid on this 'European' army thing. Do they really believe that good ole Uncle Scam would allow his Euro-muppets to go turning themselves into a rival military power right under his very nose? Of course not! This is just a sneaky, back-handed way to convince Europe to spend more on defense—something most of them have been reluctant to do thus far. The sheeple are being told, 'Oh don't worry! We're spending that money on our very ~~own~~ army—not on that dreadful NATO!' But's a ruse to fool the foolish.

And here's a darker possibility still: what if Europe's globalist ruling class fears a popular revolt of some type, because of ever-worsening social, political and economic conditions? They've already had trouble with Greece; now they've got Brexit, Italy and problems with the Visegrad countries. And the neoliberal austerity has only just begun! So what if this European army is just a clever way of creating a giant, anti-populist Interior Ministry that is only loyal to the corrupt clique running the EU, rather than to any specific European people, like the present armies of Europe? I know, it sounds paranoid. But it's something to think about ...

There is a strange myth that in some way the EU is a Progressive institution. You only have to look at the way France and the UK have pursued Imperial Dreams in the ME, Africa and in the South China Sea to appreciate how untrue that is. Or look at the way the EU was the very first to announce there was a 'New' Government in Ukraine after further street provocations in February 2014. Our very own unelected Baroness Ashton, then the EU's High Representative on Foreign Affairs, made the announcement only after speaking to Obama several times during the night, according to her phone record. Never elected by anyone to anything but Tony Blair's personal candidate for the job the Baroness even had a moment to confirm who would take over, Nationalists, International bankers with Israeli passports and self declared Fascists. A plan signed by several Foreign Ministers including those of France and Russia for an early general election was repudiated before the ink had dried. Who needs votes when The Man has decided? As the US continued its threats to throttle Russia with economic sanctions the Europeans slowly realised what a disaster this was for their agriculture and fishing but there was nothing they could do about it. Even now when the US is about to develop short range nuclear weapons to be situated in Poland and other parts of East Europe only a few lone European voices are realising it means a nuclear front line in Europe, something they strove to avoid for years. Now they just bow their heads in supplication and (presumably) start digging bunkers. The history of the US suggests they won't think twice about sacrificing Europe for their own ends. It really is America First, Poland (like last time) Expendable.

If the EU ever does put together a European army, the best use for it would be to try to restore basic law and order in the Third World Hellhole it is becoming. They could start with Sweden, the rape capital of the world, where the Swedish police have simply given up and no longer even bother investigating violent rapes of very young children. They are already proposing to deploy the Swedish army to try to establish some semblance of order in the ever expanding archipelago of No Go areas. The same applies to France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Germany, Austria and Italy (and certainly the UK.) Then they could try securing Europe's borders from the barbarian invasions of Third World migrant hordes which has already made the "Camp Of The Saints" look a bit tame by comparison. The Americans, for all their faults, are wise to hang on to their guns. They're going to need them.

This virus has been jumped on as it represents a golden opportunity for rogue western gov'ts to do just about anything, from crashing a flawed economy, pushing people into more debt and bankruptcy, to denying more rights, enacting martial law and detaining those who wish to travel.

All is being monitored and public responses analysed by gov'ts, the UN and the WHO for future use no doubt. The models used for all the virus panic and chaos are as bogus as the Dr Mann hockey stick climate predictions.

Well there's a post to cheer me up. Done my bit, or tried to, to debunk the fear. 200,000 views and climbing on my first ever YouTube video. And if they or anyone else hasn't mentioned it, the biggest scare of the Imperial College document isn't the model, Ro or any of that nonsense. It's that it plucks out of nowhere a 'worst case' that is 50 to 150 times worse than the two real world worst cases: Hubei and Italy. Hubei, 3508 deaths, 59m people. Italy, 10,000 deaths, at or near peak, projecting 17,000 deaths and it's done. It's not rocket science. It's plotting the WHO data. The CMO statement was pure fear generating. It's the WMD dodgy dossier all over again.

THE SO-CALLED "CORONA VIRUS" SCARE IS AN INSANE, INSIDIOUS, AND DECEITFUL GLOBAL PLOT TO INCITE CHAOS , FEAR, AND PANDEMONIUM THAT HAS BEEN GENERATED BY SOME WORLD ELITISTS, AND PERPETRATED TO MANIPULATE AND CONTROL THE IGNORANT AND GULLIBLE MASSES, AND ALSO TO DAMAGE THE ECONOMY, PRIMARILY AS A MEANS TO BIAS AND INFLUENCE THE COMING ELECTION AND FOR IMPLEMENTING THEIR EVIL AGENDAS. THE INTELLIGENT MINORITY KNOW THIS. BILLIONS OF DOLLARS HAVE BEEN PAID, MOSTLY AS BRIBES, TO SPREAD THIS MASSIVE FARCE, WHICH IS WHY IT'S BEEN SO WIDESPREAD ON THE MEDIA, ALMOST ENTIRELY WITH FAKE NEWS! MANY PEOPLE HAVE BEEN SURREPTITIOUSLY MURDERED IN THIS PROCESS WITH A FAKE "CURE" FOR THE SUPPOSED CORONA VIRUS, SO AS TO MAKE IT APPEAR REAL. THE PERPETRATORS OF THIS GIGANTIC EVIL PLOT APPROVE OF THEIR ACTIONS BY BELIEVING THAT "THE END JUSTIFIES THE MEANS". – DO YOU REMEMBER THE Y2K SCARE THAT WENT GLOBAL ABOUT 20 YEARS AGO? ONLY A VERY FEW INTELLIGENT PEOPLE KNEW IT WAS JUST A GIGANTIC HOAX. AND THOUGH BILLIONS WERE SUPPOSEDLY SPENT TO REMEDY AND RECTIFY

THE IMAGINED PROBLEM, AFTER 2000 PASSED, THE Y2K FARCE JUST FADED OUT. WELL, IT'S THE SAME WITH THIS "CORONA VIRUS" NONSENSE. – BUT, UNFORTUNATELY, SOME INNOCENT PEOPLE HAVE BEEN SURREPTITIOUSLY MURDERED TO MAKE THIS EVIL SO-CALLED CORONA VIRUS COVER-UP APPEAR REAL. THE PERPETRATORS KNOW THAT WHEN PEOPLE ARE IN A STATE OF FEAR, THEN THEY CAN BE EASILY CONTROLLED, WHICH IS THEIR INTENT. THE GLOBAL ELITE WHO HAVE DESIGNED THIS "CORONA VIRUS PLOT" ARE DESPERATE TO PUSH THEIR EVIL AGENDA, THAT THEY WILL EVEN MURDER INNOCENT PEOPLE IN AN EFFORT TO MAKE THIS NEFARIOUS CORONA VIRUS FARCE APPEAR LIKE IT'S ACTUAL. FACT . . . THE SO-CALLED CORONA VIRUS IS AN EVIL WIDESPREAD SCARE TACTIC. HOPEFULLY, IT WILL SOON BLOW OVER. DON'T LET IT MANIPULATE YOUR ACTIONS TO A PERNICIOUS LEVEL. KNOW WHAT'S HAPPENING AND WHY IT'S HAPPENING. HAVE HOPE AND FAITH IN OUR LOVING HEAVENLY FATHER, WHO KNOWS ALL AND IS OVER ALL.

Which two countries have been the most affected so far? Italy and Spain. Importantly, these happen to be two of the most touristed nations in the world, two of the oldest nations in the world (in terms of average life expectancy), and two of the most communal nations in the world (there are few “old folks’ homes”, which, culturally, is of subjective value, but medically, means that these people were exposed to the virus much more directly and completely from the start).

So the crisis there is real. But in the rest of the world? Cases in the US keep going up, but we are testing far more people. Of course, morbidity rates are not directly linear, but over 500 people in the US died on 28 March, and less than 300 did yesterday (29/3, as per <https://www.worldometers.info/coronavirus/>). The headline article on cnn.com that I saw this morning (30/3) was “UK outbreak shows signs of slowing, expert says.”

But why does this feel so immediate? Because Italy and Spain are the West. People have been there. When we see photos of abandoned public spaces in Venice, in Barcelona, in Paris, even if we ourselves haven’t visited these sites, we know them. And the people “look like us”. Western Europe is “real” to Western media in a way that Asia or Africa are not. Replace “Italy” and “Spain” with “Indonesia” and “Vietnam”, or better, with “Nigeria” and “Eritrea” and this is, sadly, not even news (the racial implications of this idea are another issue, but it’s hard to deny that this would be the case). This virus would not have crashed the world stock markets, and occasioned cancellations of basically everything in North America, Europe, and elsewhere.

And now national governments are using the crisis and the attendant fear and quarantining to push through all manner of legislation in the name of “protecting the people”. What’s in the US stimulus package? I doubt most congresspeople even read it in its entirety, although several made massive stock sell-offs before the market completely crashed (and a week later, it’s already recovering). Russia is using enhanced tech to curb the spread of the violence (<https://edition.cnn.com/2020/03/29/europe/russia-coronavirus-authoritarian-tech-intl/index.html>) but what else will they use it for?

We will likely look back on this in a decade as a largely mass-hysteria fueled recession which allowed governments to tighten their control on citizens in various ways and allowed big businesses to consolidate their already significant advantages.

The US rates are going up because SARS 2 virus has almost certainly been circulating there since mid last year, probably after an 'escape' from one of the numerous US Government, private and covert bio-warfare laboratories.

Tell a lie BIG enough, and tell it often enough, and keep repeating it. People will eventually come to believe it. The lie can be maintained only for such time as the State can shield the people from the political, economic and/or Military consequence of the lie.....

And they will stop at 'nothing' to achieve their agenda..

<http://www.theguardian.com/politics/2002/Apr/21/uk.medicalscience>

Please open this link to learn just how little we are valued and how far they are prepared to go to achieve the agenda of the cabal and their New World Order.

We need to keep in mind that the robot talking heads are just reading from the scripts provided to them by their masters.

They have sold their souls to the devil for a handful of dollars. Their fate is sealed, if not in this life then definitely in the next.

All we can do is 'live' to the best of our abilities, to 'care' for all mankind and creatures on this planet.

So we have to stay in for a while? We will eventually emerge with our consciences intact but they will have to live knowing that they have assisted in the destruction of life as we know it, and will have aided in the killing of more innocents. Just as they have done all the brown people in the Middle East. Only here it will have been all the weak and Vulnerable, I being one of their prime targets. 😞

Most of us are used to what they are offering anyway, we have been 'slaves' from birth?

So what will be new? Just a different master with a new set of rules.

We have shown we are compliant, their job is all but done.

What are the two hardest-hit nations so far? Spain and Italy. These are also two of the most touristed nations in the world, two of the oldest nations in the world (in terms of average life expectancy), and two of the most communal nations in the world (there are few “old folks’ homes”, which, culturally, is of subjective value, but medically, means that these people were exposed to the virus much more directly and completely from the start).

So the crisis there is real. But in the rest of the world? Cases in the US keep going up, but we are testing much more. Of course, morbidity rates are not directly linear, but over 500 people in the US died on 28 March, and less than 300 did yesterday (29/3, as per <https://www.worldometers.info/coronavirus/>). The headline article on cnn.com that I saw this morning (30/3) was “UK outbreak shows signs of slowing, expert says.”

But why does this feel so immediate? Because Italy and Spain are the West. People have been there. When we see photos of abandoned public spaces, we know them. And the people “look like us”. Western Europe is “real” to Western media in a way that Asia or Africa are not. Replace “Italy” and “Spain” with “Indonesia” and “Vietnam”, or better, with “Nigeria” and “Eritrea” and this is, sadly, not even news (the racial implications of this idea are another issue, but it’s hard to deny that this would be the case). This virus would not have crashed the world stock markets, and occasioned cancellations of basically everything in North America, Europe, and elsewhere.

And now national governments are using the crisis and the attendant fear and quarantining to push through all manner of legislation in the name of “protecting the people”. What’s in the US stimulus package? I doubt most congresspeople even read it in its entirety, although several made massive stock sell-offs before the market completely crashed (and a week later, it’s already recovering). Russia is using enhanced tech to curb the spread of the violence (<https://edition.cnn.com/2020/03/29/europe/russia-coronavirus-authoritarian-tech-intl/index.html>) but what else will they use it for?

We will likely look back on this in a decade as a largely mass-hysteria fueled recession which allowed governments to tighten their control on citizens in various ways and allowed big businesses to consolidate their already significant advantages.

On 20 Mar 2020 when Israel had zero deaths due to COVID-19, Nobel Prize winner and “expert” Michael Levitt said he would be “surprised if number of deaths in Israel surpasses ten”.

As of 29 Mar 2020 Israel has 15 deaths (including 3 more today), so Levitt must be surprised. Israel has 4,247 cases (628 new cases today), so more deaths are coming, making Levitt even more surprised he was wrong.

it does not make any sense ?????

As if.

Right now, everyone — just about EVERYONE that can — is being tested for COVID-19. 85% percent of cases in China were showing no symptoms. The virus is ubiquitous. There is no reason whatsoever to assume that it is a causative factor in cases where swabs are assessed after death has occurred. Yet, when a viral strain is isolated, it is automatically registered as cause of death. No scientific scrutiny is being used!

People are dying all the time in Italy. They just are not regularly looking for every virus under the sun when older people die from degeneration of organ and glandular systems. Lungs lose integrity and cellular debris and waste accumulate. These factors are the CAUSE of death.

Someone right now is dying from pneumonia and it will absolutely be possible to isolate this year's version of coronavirus from the cellular terrain, thereafter claiming it as causative factor in death. That is sloppy science.

The problem with sloppy science, is that "coronavirus" (due to mass media over-magnification) will end up stealing stats from the 1.5-3 million pneumonia cases per year and the the 3/4 to 1 million flu cases. In fact, it already is.

Berlin isn't Germany, so 52 deaths a year in Berlin translates as 35,000 throughout the whole of Germany.

The maths of Dr Mölling's statement don't add up: if one Berliner (pop. 3.8 m) dies every week from whatever cause, that would give fewer than 1,150 a year for the whole of Germany (pop. 83 m). I can only conclude that Dr Möller must have been misquoted, as she can't possibly be worse at sums than me.

What is clear is that common sense and rationality have gone out the window. Fear and panic now rule the world. Is the coronavirus crisis – with dozens of countries on lockdown, the epidemic has definitely turned into a crisis – a stampede of lemmings?

French hypocrisy update: two reasonably well-known 'geopolitical commentators' (i.e., servile state propagandists), Anthony Bellinger on BFM TV last week and Pierre Haski on France Inter radio this morning have accused China of lying about its coronavirus deaths – Haski said that there may have been 40,000 deaths in Wuhan rather than the 2,500 or so announced. This, he alleged without giving any source, was based on the number of people coming to the city's crematoria to pick up the urns of their cremated relatives once the lockdown ended. (Fun fact: Haski is president of Reporteurs sans frontières, whose targets mainly consist of the usual suspects: Maduro, Putin, Xi, etc. but rarely anyone closer to their own glass houses.) Bellinger simply said China was lying – no facts, no figures, no examples.

Latest news: France, whose medical-mask industry was practically wiped out by successive neoliberal governments, has ordered a billion masks from the Chinese liars. The first planeload landed in Paris last night. The lying Chinese are saving France's @rse. (The French hypocrisy story will run and run.)

The Sunday Mail front page was shrieking about Chinese lying yesterday as well. I didn't bother reading it, but I assume this is the (unchallenged) story going around the MSM now.

This pandemic is definitely being used by all the Western Rightwing racist Sinophobes as a casus belli for the inevitable war on China. If the epidemic in the USA proves particularly deadly, the Rightwing racist hate-mongers will go utterly ape-shit, and they lie as they breathe.

I read that, too, but I think she meant that Berlin is just one city, and in every city in Germany this happens. Maybe it was just a poor translation, or the fact that her English isn't perfect...

Thanks, Oscar. Yes it has been well noted and linked several times previously but it does no harm to have it available again for new visitors to the site. Makes for very interesting and intriguing reading...as far as I know there hasn't been an explanation forthcoming from the Government. They seem to be adopting their usual policy of ignoring something embarrassing until it goes away!

Yes, I have read it, but it is a little bit misleading. COVID-19 doesn't have a high mortality rate, not like Hanta virus, for example.

So is it rational to downgrade its “danger of dying if you get it”? Yes, totally.

But, at the same time, it is very contagious, so the total number of deaths will be high just because the number of people that gets it IS high.

And if the rate of contagion is high (“exponential”), it means that almost the whole of the population gets it *rapidly* i.e. matter of weeks, and, so, the “tiny” minority of people that gets a severe infection is counted in the thousands (1% of 10 millions is 100 K people) and it overruns the capacity of any health system.

My personal opinion based purely on speculation is the reason why the health systems of various countries are overwhelmed is because many reporting to hospitals and clinics have a common cold or a seasonal flue that they believe is “COVID 19” because of all the media hype which is distracting health care professionals from handling critical cases who in turn are dying from neglect.

This is probably what is happening in NYC right now which right now seems to be the current epicenter of the coronavirus.

Also all this panic is perfect for covering up what seems to be an extreme possibility based on evidence that the virus’ origin was not natural but a biological warfare operation that went sideways.

This would also definitely be my FORMER chief medical officer. Maybe tossed into the air lock...

But we also need to be sensible. Quarantine belongs back in the Middle Ages. Save your masks for robbing banks. Stay calm and carry on. Let's not make our attempted cures worse than the disease.

I mean these rebuttals are greatly appreciated. We do indeed need to not overreact.

But “quarantine belongs back in the middle ages” is a very scientifically midevil statement to make. 🤡
