

Epstein Black Book # 2

This second Jeffrey Epstein address book pre-dates the first, and is being included second because it did not surface until nearly a decade after the first - this one being made public in 2021.

The book, which contains 349 names, offers a window into the late sex offender's social circle a full decade before the era covered by his previously known "little black book." More than 200 names listed in the book did not appear in Epstein's later address book.

Prominent entries not previously associated with Epstein include Morgan Fairchild, Suzanne Ircha, Carl Icahn, John A. Catsimatidis, Sandy Warner, and Martin Peretz.

A key difference between this book and the first is that the "finders" of this address book did not release full contact information for each recipient - only their name and location (plus additional notes when applicable).

The origins of this book are their own remarkable story: Denise Ondayko, a former musician, said she was walking down Fifth Avenue in the mid-'90s when she spotted an address book on the ground and picked it up out of curiosity.

More than two decades later, 2020, Ondayko was cleaning out an storage unit she had rented when the long-buried book emerged from a box. After a relative thumbed through it — and saw the entries for Epstein's numerous properties — the relative recognized who the owner was.

The book was subsequently sold on eBay, and its contents (names and cities only) were made public.
